
TORONTO INITIATIVE FOR IRANIAN STUDIES
DEPARTMENT OF NEAR AND MIDDLE EASTERN CIVILIZATIONS, DEPARTMENT OF HISTORY,
AND DEPARTMENT OF HISTORICAL STUDIES-UTM
THE THIRD SEMIANNUAL
MIDDLE EAST HISTORY AND THEORY STUDENT CONFERENCE
THE CENTENNIAL OF THE IRANIAN
CONSTITUTIONAL REVOLUTION
28 March 2005
4 Bancroft Ave., Bancroft 200B

PRELIMINARY CONFERENCE SCHEDULE

3:00 Opening Remarks

Mohamad Tavakoli

3:05-3:40 Making Revolutions

Feyza Nour Binbir, "Comparing Iranian and Ottoman Constitutional Revolution

Maryam Chegini, "British Spies and Conspiracy Theories"

3:40-4:20 Social Transformations

Hani Abdel-Jawad, "Urbanization and the Constitutional Revolution"

Abbas Mirkhoozani, "Land Reform and Revolutionary Development"

4:20-5:00 Gender and Revolution

Samira Mohyeddin, "Sexual and National Honor: Women and the Politics of Participation in the Iranian Constitutional Revolution"

Susan Padrad, "Women and the Constitutional Revolution"

5:00-6:00 Art, Literature and Revolution

Ayham Tamari, "The Literary Constitutional Revolution"

Sarah Lynett, "The Identity of Pre-Revolutionary Iranian Literature"

Cathleen de Groot, "Postcarding the Constitutional Revolution"

6:00-6:40 Philosophy and Identity

Joanna Velgakis, "National Identity and the Iranian Constitutional Revolution"

Nima Nakhaei, "Malkum Khan's Political Philosophy and the Constitutional Revolution"

6:40-7:20 Religion and Revolution

Chak Wan Kam, "The Alliance of the Clergy and Social Democrats"

Tahereh Garshab, "Analysis of Origins and Growth of Pan-Islam"

Closing Remarks: Mohamad Tavakoli